Message from Chairperson

I am highly pleased to know that SETU successfully implemented some programs/projects in last year. With the dynamic leadership of the Executive Director SETU is going ahead in cooperation with GOs, NGOs, MFIs to reach its desired goal.

I am confident enough that SETU will be able to continue the same progress in coming days.

SETU arranges its quarterly and annual meeting of executive and general body in which the organizational progress is reviewed and explained systematically. The members of the bodies provide their valuable suggestions during the meetings.

I am glad to express my gratitude to the donors, GOs, NGOs, INGOs, MFIs for extending their cooperation and do hope these supports will be continued in coming years.

Md. Shahidullah Sheikh

Chairperson

From the desk of Executive Director

I am highly pleased to carry out some programs/projects in the reporting year 2022-2023 that were successfully accomplished with the untiring efforts of different level staff members.

In this year SETU undertook some new projects like Recovery and Advancement of Informal Sector Employment (RAISE) with funding from Palli Karma-Sahayak Foundation (PKSF) and the World Bank. Some new staff members were deployed including a Project Coordinator to implement the project for urban and peri-urban unemployed youth affected by COVID -19.

A good deal of work enthusiasm in the project area was generated to enhance the employability and entrepreneurship of youth members who find the project very much innovative and encouraging.

In this perspective SETU organized some need-based and project related training courses for these staff members which assist them to implement projects quite skillfully.

In the year SETU also maintained good contact with some national and global organizations including ECOSOC, UNCCD, FAO, WFP, BRAC, BFF, Naripakkha etc.

I would like to thank to our donors, partners, well-wishers, GOs, NGOs, INGOs, MFIs for their supports and cooperation. Further I appreciate SETU's staff members who work whole-heartedly to make the programs/projects successful.

I am also grateful to the executive and general committee members who extended cooperation and provided necessary suggestion for the overall progress of SETU's programs/projects.

Md. Abdul Quader

Executive Director

Journey of SETU

SETU is a national level rights based development organization in Bangladesh having special consultative status with UN Economic & Social Council (ECOSOC) and observer status with United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD).

Virtually SETU has been contributing to achieve Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through implementation of different relevant programs which are briefed below:

SDG-01; No Poverty: SETU undertakes poverty alleviation, social protection, equal rights to economic resources, capacity building of the poor against environmental and other impacts.

Poverty Alleviation

SETU attaches due priority in poverty alleviation in order to improve the living standard of those who are lying under poverty line.

The underlying causes of poverty include vulnerability, migration, social exclusion, lack of assets and income opportunities. The growing income inequality is of major concern.

The economy of SETU's working area is mostly characterized by the rural economy where unemployment, underemployment are very high. A major portion of those people lives in extreme poverty and they are recognized as ultra poor.

The nature of extreme poverty varies in different areas and special emphasis is needed to alleviate poverty arising from area specific problems. SETU has laid special emphasis to make the program more goals oriented with a view to accelerating the poverty alleviation process.

Tackling unemployment of women, men and youth that needs to be addressed for poverty alleviation is the question of gender gap and mainstreaming process. SETU undertakes different initiatives as need based action to overcome the poverty of ultra poor and most vulnerable groups.

SETU's initiatives to reduce poverty are to encourage the creation of opportunities in the form of new micro-entrepreneurship and through the potential of new employment. As impact in long run economic growth of target audience is achieved through improving of human capital for furthering their overall emancipation.

SETU has been implementing Poverty Alleviation Program with financial and technical assistance of Palli Karma-Sahayak Foundation (PKSF) since 1993. Presently SETU implements the program through on line service.

This program covers total 55 Upazilas of 13 districts. Total 5,616 Nos. of groups were formed with 1,03,997 members who have accumulated Tk. 71.04 crore as their savings. Total borrowers are 65,631, total amount of loan outstanding with service charge is Tk. 298.58 crore. Poverty alleviation program is managed through 99 branches and 18 regional offices.

Poverty alleviation program is divided into 11 categories which is shown in the table below till June 2023:

Group Formation

Group formation of SETU involves a variety of steps:

- Communication with target people
- Awareness Building
- Group formation
- Savings generation

SETU organizes and mobilizes the poor man and women into groups at villages of its working area.

SDG-02; Zero Hunger: SETU builds capacity against hunger and all kinds of malnutrition and growth of production on agriculture.

Food Security

SETU wages awareness campaign on food security as right to life is the sole basis of all human rights. In ensuring food security human rights factors should not be ignored as poverty being corner stone of all human crises and that makes individuals vulnerable to food insecurity. SETU promotes the food security campaign on harm-free food production and consumption through sustainable agriculture for ensuring hunger free world.

Agriculture and Livestock Development

This is an important component of SETU's poverty alleviation program. SETU contributes to agricultural growth by providing agricultural loan to its group members against cultivation of onion and garlic, maize, paddy, potato, banana, vegetable, sunflower, etc. Under financial assistance of PKSf and banks SETU has been implementing the program in its working area. Beside this SETU provides credit supports to fish culture, poultry and goat rearing activities to its group members.

The photos show two economic schemes of SETU's group member.

Seed and seedling distribution

SETU distributed Seeds and seedlings of vegetables, fruits and woods trees among farmers of SETU's working area to utilize homestead lands. SETU undertook this program with its own fund to assist government initiative in order to promote vegetables and wood production. This initiative encouraged the farmers to utilize their fallow lands in productive purposes.

The photos show distributed seeds & trees.

Tackling unemployment of youth and women

SETU introduced beef fattening program initially with its own source. It proves as a profitable venture and able to earn additional income, create employment for small farm household members specially unemployed members like housewives & youths. Later SETU strengthened the program with financial support from PKSF and banks covering greater population of working area. SETU's rearers meet a considerable portion of cattle demand of city dwellers during the Eid festival.

Livelihood restoration program (LRP)

SETU implements livelihood restoration program (LRP) for victims of natural disaster like flood, river bank erosion etc. by providing essential goods like emergency food, cloths, medicine, blankets and interest- free loan. Flood victims of Chilmari char under Daulotpur upazila and river bank erosion victims of Bahadurpur under Pangsha upazila of Rajbari districts got LRP support.

Participants of LRP

SDG-06; Clean Water and Sanitation: SETU promotes availability of safe water and low cost sanitation involving community people for achieving the goal.

Environmental Sanitation

Water supply and sanitation (WSS) interventions that can ensure improved water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH) along with adequate and healthy food and quality health care are critical to hygiene promotion and good health of all humans. For the improvement in the WSS sector, the Government of Bangladesh is implementing a set of comprehensive policies and strategies in the WSS sector, but the key challenge is to translate these policies and strategies into concrete actions especially since this requires a well-coordinated set of measures by multiple stakeholders.

SETU implements Sanitation, Hygiene Education and Water Supply (GOB-UNICEF) program in Meherpur district under financial and technical assistance of UNICEF, DPHE & DFID. A variety of activities have been carried out in the field to wage social mobilization for achieving the targets.

Activities of 100% sanitation coverage

SDG-13; Climate Action: SETU participates in countering climate change and increase awareness in national development plan, thus undertakes related programs in the country.

Climate Justice

SETU has been working on climate Justice focusing the issue from rights and justice perspective. Climate change is a world concern but it is very important for Bangladesh due to its geographical location.

The NGO raises the climate justice issue at local, regional and global level through different forums. It attempts to strengthen public opinion on climate justice involving the GOs, NGOs, CSOs, CBOs, media and other professionals.

A fundamental view of climate justice is that those who are at least responsible for climate change suffer its gravest consequences. The effect of climate change are felt most acutely by people who are least responsible for causing the problems and are bearing the burden of rich countries' over consumption of our planet resources.

In this connection SETU promotes interventions like mainstreaming climate change adaptation into policies and programs, integrating climate justice issues in educational curriculums, disseminating climate change information to vulnerable communities for raising consciousness in climate justice, empowering the vulnerable communities on claiming climate justice and human rights, thus guarantee their socio economic development.

Victims of natural disaster

Vermicompost promotion:

SETU undertook vermicomposting program to guide the farmers about the appropriate use of vermicompost by organizing various training and extension activities. This helps in the augmentation of organic farming and popularization of vermicomposting for environmental sustainability in SETU's working area involving male/female farmers. In this reporting period SETU so far achieved following progress in vermicompost promotion:

Male/female farmers are working on vermicompost preparation and use in different villages of Kushtia sadar, Mirpur and Kumarkhali upazila area. It is necessary to guide the farmers about vermicomposting. So SETU provides on-the-field training and motivation to the farmers. They prepares vermicompost schemes in ring slabs, use in their crop fields as per gained knowledge. Many farmers are expanding vermicomposting to meet their additional needs, some farmers also sell vermicompost to other farmers after meeting their needs.

As a demonstration effect many neighboring farmers come ahead to prepare and use vermicompost in their crop fields. Some photographs show the vermicompost preparation schemes of farmers of different villages of the upazilas.

Recovery and Advancement of Informal Sector Employment (RAISE) project:

SETU's RAISE project is being implemented in urban and peri-urban areas with the joint funding of Palli Karma-Sahayak Foundation (PKSF) and the World Bank aiming to enhance earning opportunities for low-income youth impacted by COVID-19. The services include skill acquisition through informal apprenticeship, business management training, access to credit etc.

SETU started the project in 2023 and achieved mentionable progress:

With a view to involving the unemployed youth in suitable employment and involved male, female youth through providing different supports under 13 trades apprenticeship components.

In skill acquisition component required fund was disbursed among small youth entrepreneurs who are being provided Business Management and Entrepreneurship Development training.

Under COVID-19 affected small entrepreneurs' capacity development component youth entrepreneurs were provided credits. They were also given Risk Management and Business Continuity (RMBC) training for successful implement of the project.

SDG-03; Good Health and Well Being: SETU Implements health awareness, enhance capacity and opportunity for reproductive health for people of all backgrounds.

Health for All

SETU promotes awareness on health with the help of medical assistant among the stakeholders as an essential service. SETU initiates advocacy with government departments and service providing NGOs to enhance quality health facilities. Mentionable results of the program are: access raised to claim health service from existing government facilities, health awareness improved among women and knowledge level upgraded on reproductive health, safe water use and sanitation.

SDG-04; Quality Education: SETU promotes access to pre-primary, primary and secondary education as well as technical, vocational and higher education, strengthens adult education, reduces gender disparity in education sector.

Education for all

SETU organizes and mobilizes CSOs, CBOs, parents, teachers, stakeholders and people in general towards achieving education for all.

SETU facilitates 100% enrollment in primary schools. Since 1986 the NGO has been implementing mass education, functional education, adult education, non-formal primary education through conducting education centers. Beside these SETU has been Promoting Science Education (PSE) in secondary schools level through implementing different activities.

In this perspective SETU undertakes need based, lifelong education and seeks to ensure the full enjoyment of the right to education.

Participation of learners in different educational activities

Promoting Science education in secondary schools (PSE) Project

SETU has been implementing popularization of science education project with students of 30 secondary schools and madrasahs of Mirpur Upazila of Kushtia district under financial assistance of Bangladesh Freedom Foundation (BFF). Project activities are going on in full swing which includes sensitization meeting with parents and teachers, reformation of science club, arrange school base science fair sharing workshop with a teachers of schools and madrasah.

Moreover SETU extended popularization of science education project in Doulatpur Upazila with its own funding. Ten numbers of schools and madrasah of Refayetpur, Pearpur, Moricha, Pragpur and Adabaria Union were included under the project. SETU already organized sharing workshop with teachers in Doulatpur education office. Beside this science club formation in those schools were also completed.

Bangobondhu education scholarship

Under this program SETU distributed higher education scholarship among students of different institutions. Besides the organization assists students of poor families to purchase books and education materials as well as admission support.

Capacity Building

Capacity building is a routine work in SETU's development program. SETU organizes different training programs for its staff members which are facilitated by senior staff of the organization. This training courses include:

- Organizational development
- Accounts Management
- HR Management
- Study and Survey
- Automation

Beside these SETU participated in different courses of national & international level such as interpersonal communication & risk management, use of digital media & internet for high impact, campaign on development issues and so on.

Digitalization of SETU

SETU digitalized all its offices, programs and activities to make the organization works more dynamic, transparent and accountable. All branches are equipped with IT facilities.

Training on ICT for participants

As an initiative of technological empowerment through ICT, SETU provides management training and technical assistance to its staff members with a view to enabling them in utilizing Information Communication Technology in their respective fields. This empowers them to cope with the modern challenges in performing daily duties. In this regard SETU organized series of courses/activities on automation, networking, MIS, data analysis using its computer facilities and loan collection through using mobile/TAB. Already all offices of SETU were connected with online network, facilitating quick dissemination of information on a regular basis. Obviously this technological empowerment of staff through ICT results in speedy and fruitful performance of organizational work.

Democracy Education

Empowering the people towards involvement in democratic process is essential. Democracy education for active citizen is indeed an urgent task of the day. With this view SETU undertakes democracy education program with participation of national and international organizations. This program includes: training, observation, mobilization, monitoring, media campaign etc. Mentionable that SETU is associated with National Democratic Institute (NDI) in carrying out democracy education.

A course on democracy education

SDG-05; Gender Equality: SETU initiates in reducing gender disparity, violence against women, promotes child security, participation of women in decision making process.

Gender Equity

Gender equity is the key actor for human development. It contributes in promoting economy, social harmony, peace and justice. SETU facilitates gender equity in bridging the gap in the society. Gender inequity is increasing day by day resulting discrimination, deprivation and exclusion in the society.

SDG-10; Reduced Inequalities: SETU works on reducing income inequalities, promotes inclusion in socio-economic and political activities, safe migration of people.

Reducing Inequality

SETU initiates in reducing all forms of inequality from the society. The organization mobilizes the poor, vulnerable and marginalized communities, most of whom live in rural areas, who are ultimately able to access to local power structure, financial services, public and private resources. They are capable of utilizing their accumulated savings in income raising schemes which contribute in improving living standard and education of their children.

SETU's human development training empowers marginalized communities who are left behind in raising their voices, determine choices and enable them to retort criticism against them. In this way they are capable of improving their living status, thus able to stand on their own footing that impacted reducing inequalities. Beside, those communities are able to participate in decision making process in their families and society, protest against deprivation, discrimination, injustices, visit markets, local union parishad, even participate in local body election process.

Awareness in inequalities and large disparities in society decreased to some extent in program areas. On the other hand access to income sources, health and education increased especially in rural areas where most of the poor live. The organization empowers and supports the lowest income earners and promotes economic inclusion of all regardless of sex, race or ethnicity.

Tax Justice and Peoples' Participation

SETU raises awareness among communities on tax justice enabling them to claim their socio-economic development as they pay taxes in everyday life. This activity includes: meeting, seminar, FGDs, interaction with groups & CSOs etc. for mass mobilization. The organization promotes peoples participation on this issues, particularly the underprivileged groups.

Awareness meeting on tax justice

SDG-16; Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions: SETU enhance accountable and fair institutions, make inclusive and participatory decision, information gathering, rule of law and justice for all, protection of child from smuggling and violence.

Rights and Governance

Good governance and human rights are mutually reinforcing and the former is pre-condition for the realization of the later. SETU promotes rights and governance in order to enable the peoples to participate in local power structure and decision making process. SETU initiates campaign to aware the people of rights and governance. The implementation of human rights relies on a conducive and enabling environment, thus facilitate in enhancing rights and governance.

Good governance promotes human rights in a number of ways. It encourages public participation in government, inclusion in decision making and watch accountability of elected and appointed officials. It enables civil society to become actively involved in policy making and lead to the wide representation in social interests. In this manner disadvantaged groups including women and minorities are empowered to defend their rights.

SETU implements Right Here, Right Now - RHRN 2 program in cooperation with Naripokkho through Rutgers, The Netherlands. The program aims at enhancing skills and awareness towards Promotion of reproductive health and rights of adolescent and youth in Kushtia sadar, Mirpur & Daulatpur upazila under Kushtia district.

Social Mobilization

SETU has been working at grassroots level through mobilizing people of different backgrounds, civil society organizations, professionals, youths aiming at building just and equitable society, establishing rights, interest and entitlements of mass people. SETU observes different important national, international days involving male-female group members, girls & boys. SETU undertakes civil society mobilization program ensuring effective governance system towards reducing discrimination and injustices.

Agent Banking

Economic growth of a country plays a pivotal role for greater financial inclusion, and it is possible by agent banking in our country. Agent banking has been introduced in the areas of Bangladesh where traditional Banking has not yet reached. Bangladesh Bank has taken initiative in operating Agent Banking for the people to grass root level with a view to strengthening their economic growth through financial inclusion. One branch of agent banking already opened at Hazrahati village of Mirpur upazila of Kushtia district under Standard Bank Limited.

COVID Response

As soon as the outbreak of Novel Corona Virus (COVID-19) SETU was determined to prevent the pandemic with Government and non-government organization and undertook different initiatives as follows:

The organization donated fund to the relief fund of Honorable Prime Minister through Palli Karma-Sahayak Foundation (PKSF) and to the relief fund of MP Kushtia-03 for purchasing food for poor and helpless people. The organization handed over fund and surgical masks to the fund of Corona prevention of Kushtia deputy commissioner, Oxygen cylinders to Kushtia general hospital. Besides, SETU supplied rice, pulses through SP office of Kushtia to assist the corona infected people. The organization distributed cooked food among 2,400 floating and helpless people of different parts of Kushtia & Dhaka city. It also distributed cash taka among 1,200 affected people and 5,000 masks, hand sanitizers to the poor people of different areas.

The organization bore treatment cost as well as with-pay leave of corona infected staff, also provided corona-risk allowance (two times) during the pandemic and supplied hand gloves, masks, hand sanitizers to all branches for prevention of corona, Moreover Oxygen cylinders were used freely for the service of corona patients. The organization exchanges information on Govt. declared health messages of corona virus prevention through cell phone to the members of SETU.
